Flagler County to host reception for former Commissioner Barbara Revels

December 8, 2016 – Flagler County is hosting a reception for former Commissioner Barbara Revels on Monday, December 19.

“Ms. Revels was an exemplary member of the Board of County Commissioners for eight years, and we want to recognize her for her service to Flagler County,” Commission Chair Nate McLaughlin said. “She was initiated and was involved with a lot of projects that are very important to our residents, like saving the Carver Gym, creating Sally’s Safe Haven, and repurposing the Historic Courthouse.”

The reception will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. December 19 in the Commission Chambers of the Government Services Building, 1769 E. Moody Blvd.

During her tenure Revels focused on ensuring that the Flagler County was both responsive to the needs of residents and that it operated as efficiently as possible.

In addition to serving as an elected official, Revels has a long history of community service and commitment that includes presiding over the statewide Florida Home Builders Association and serving on former governor Jeb Bush’s Affordable Housing Study Commission.

“Ms. Revels served on a number of boards and commissions before she was elected to the County Commission, and I would guess this is not the end of her service,” Coffey said. “She’s done a lot for the community, and we want to give people an opportunity to show their appreciation.”

The reception will be held before the regular County Commission meeting, and all are invited to attend.
