Flagler County librarian named NEFLIN VP, president-elect

August 8, 2017 – Flagler County Library Director Holly Albanese the incoming vice president and president-elect of the Northeast Florida Library Information Network.

The appointment was made July 19. Albanese, and other officers of the NEFLIN board of directors, will be introduced at the annual meeting held September 15 in Jacksonville.

“I will be Vice President this year, and next year I will be President of the Board,” Albanese said of the dual appointment. “I am very honored to have been selected for this position.”

“This is wonderful news,” said County Administrator Craig Coffey. “Staff members like Holly Albanese distinguish themselves outside of the work place as well as within.”
