Flagler Commissioners Sullivan, O'Brien achieve 'Advanced' status

June 17, 2019 – Flagler County Commissioners David Sullivan and Donald O'Brien both were certified in the Advanced County Commissioner Program through the Florida Association of Counties.

Specific training to be a county commissioner is not a requirement, but getting certified to the advanced level is a commitment Sullivan and O'Brien chose to make.

“Getting this extra training is important because it helps us better serve our constituents,” Sullivan said. “It’s expected of us as elected officials.”

The Advanced County Commissioner Certification program is a 27-hour leadership program that includes seminars about making tough policy choices during tumultuous times and working with stakeholders.
