FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Community testing for COVID-19 moves to Cattleman's Hall on Monday

July 24, 2020 – Two changes to Flagler County's community COVID-19 testing locations will take place next week – the last week in July.

The site at Daytona State College in Palm Coast will operate for its final week Tuesday, July 28, through Thursday, July 30, and, beginning Monday, July 27, Cattleman's Hall at the Flagler County Fairgrounds will become the new site for the majority of community testing moving forward.

"Flagler County sincerely thanks all of the volunteers, staff, and partners whose tireless efforts made the operation at Daytona State College the success that it was for over three months," said Emergency Management Director Jonathan Lord. "These amazing agencies and organizations stepped up to provide a critical service to our community in a way that is unique to Flagler County."

The Florida Department of Health – Flagler County will manage and operate the testing site at Cattleman's Hall, with logistical support from Flagler County. This site will operate Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. by appointment only. Cattleman's Hall is located at 650 County Road 13, Bunnell.
