FDLE closes review of former Tourism Director Matt Dunn, determines criminal investigation not warranted

May 19, 2020 – The Florida Department of Law Enforcement notified Flagler County early Tuesday that there “is no evidence of conduct which would warrant a criminal investigation” against former Tourism Director Matt Dunn.

“We are very happy for our former director Matt Dunn that he will no longer have to live under this cloud,” said County Administrator Jerry Cameron, who received the notification letter by email Tuesday morning.

The three-page letter summarizes the agency’s review of the complaint and allegations that Dunn – through his business the Dunn Agency and personal associations going back to college – benefitted personally from his job with Flagler County.

“As guardians of taxpayers money, we are glad this isn’t so,” Cameron said.
